

Family Separation FOIA Response from HHS Key Documents: Instances of Family Separation

The following documents related to family separation were received by the American Immigration Council, National Immigrant Justice Center, Kids in Need of Defense (KIND), Women's Refugee Commission, and Florence Immigrant & Refugee Rights Project in response to a Freedom of Information Act request filed with the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS). These documents show that, despite the June 20, 2018 Executive Order that ostensibly ended the “Zero Tolerance” policy, children continue to be separated from their parents at the border at a rate higher than the Trump administration claims.

HHS Records Tracking Instances of Child Separation

This FOIA production is entirely comprised of a 63-page spreadsheet containing a list of children separated from family members at the border. The spreadsheet shows that the administration separated 3,109 children from their parents from February 2018 to March 2019. According to HHS figures, 2,726 of the separations occurred pursuant to the Zero Tolerance policy. The remaining separations appear to have occurred for a variety of other reasons. The justifications listed for the separations are vague, including allegations that a parent has a “criminal history,” “medical issues,” a “gang/cartel affiliation,” or that the family relationship is “not verifiable.” Significantly, the administration’s use of criminal history or gang affiliation as a justification for separation has increased since June 2018. The documents suggest that the government may be relying on unsubstantiated information regarding alleged criminal history or gang affiliation as the basis to separate families. Without any semblance of due process, the burden is on the immigrants to prove their innocence.

Key information included in the FOIA production:

- 2,726 children were separated from their parents or legal guardians pursuant to the Zero Tolerance policy, from January 2018 through June 2018. Following the official end of Zero Tolerance in June 2018 through March 2019 (the latest data included in the FOIA production), separations continued:
 - At least eight children age “0” (presumably under 12 months of age) were separated.
 - At least 37 children ages 2 and under were separated.
 - At least 108 children ages 5 and under were separated.
 - Each day, as many as five children are separated.
 - Children remained separated from their parents or legal guardians for several weeks or even months. In some cases, it is unclear whether the families were ever reunified with their parent or legal guardian.
