A Celebration of Immigrants

7:30pm Reception, 8:00pm Program, 9:00pm Afterparty

Who We Are

The American Immigration Council envisions a nation where immigrants are embraced, communities are enriched, and justice prevails for all.

We strive to create a society that values immigrants as vital contributors to our nation and where everyone is afforded an equal opportunity to thrive socially, economically, and culturally.

What We Do

Immigration is a defining issue of our time, shaping the destiny of our nation's prosperity and the lives of millions. Today, communities around the country struggle to absorb and support an influx of newcomers, exacerbated by a global migration crisis and fueled by divisive political rhetoric.

The American Immigration Council seeks to address these challenges head-on, wielding the most powerful cross-section of specialties in the immigration field today. We are...

Our Impact

Last year, we...

Calculated the $900+ billion cost of mass deportation and shared our findings through extensive media coverage and congressional testimony.

Blocked implementation of Florida and Iowa laws targeting immigrants through impact litigation.

Stood up for the civil rights of LGBTQ+ immigrants through a Department of Homeland Security compliant and public comment campaign.

Launched a toolkit to help state advocates combat anti-immigrant legislation.

Shared our PSA about immigration and belonging during the Vice Presidential debate on CNN and election night coverage on Fox News.

and so much more. Check out our 2024 Impact Report online.

Our Work in Action: Mousa's Story

We connect hundreds of people with legal representation that can change the course of their lives. One of these individuals is Mousa, who we met when he was being detained by Immigration & Customs Enforcement in Aurora, CO.

Mousa is from an East African country where he faced persecution because his family was perceived to be a religious minority. Tragically, he fled his country alone after his family were killed. He was just 17 years old when he crossed the US border, but in violation of the law, CBP disregarded his proof of identity and detained him as an adult.

Our Work in Action: Mousa's Story

Our local partners began representing him and secured a dental exam to try to prove his age, but it was unsuccessful. To continue fighting for Mousa, they referred his case to us.

Our team successfully challenged the errors in his record in immigration court and Mousa was released on bond. Then, we took action to get his removal case terminated altogether; Mousa speaks an extremely rare language, and lack of access to a translator meant that he could not get meaningful due process in court. Now, Mousa has moved in with a sponsor family in Colorado and enrolled in high school.

"I thought I was going to be lost in the jail forever, until my lawyer worked hard to get me out so I can get an education and live freely and without being afraid."

Our Work in Action: Stopping Unconstitutional Immigration Laws

To fight against an Iowa bill that would discriminate against immigrants and create the state's own immigration enforcement standards, we...

Identified and tracked the bill as one of over 700 pieces of proposed immigrant-related legislation.

Equipped local advocates with a toolkit of information and strategies to counter anti-immigration policies in their communities.

Provided expert testimony in opposition to the bill, noting the harm and legal issues with enacting such a law.

Filed a lawsuit challenging the law on behalf of Iowa Migrant Movement for Justice and two Iowa residents, in partnership with the ACLU.

Argued against the bill's unconstitutionality and harmful impacts on June 10.

A federal court blocked the bill from going into effect on July 1. From here, our litigation continues to permanently stop the Iowa law and set a powerful precedent to prevent other states from considering similar legislation.
